The 2014-2015 season of Concerts from the Library of Congress brings a stellar roster of performers, ensembles and scholars directly to you. In commemoration of the 150th birthday of our founding patron, Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge, you will be treated to musical experiences that you can't get anywhere else—100% free and donor-supported. Join us for a season of music beyond labels—an exclusive experience for everyone.

AMERICAN MADE

American performers and music are at the heart of the concert season at the nation's Library. Legendary artists like singer Mavis Staples, whose musical impact spans the worlds of gospel, soul, R & B, jazz and rock, offer a look back at the evolution of our musical traditions and history. Popular Broadway composers Steven Lutvak, Jeanine Tesori and David Yazbek bring the best of "The Great White Way" to an intimate concert in the Coolidge Auditorium. Boundary-pushing performers Etienne Charles (Creole Soul) and Nels Cline of Wilco (Library Late: The Nels Cline Singers) explore the potential for label-defying music to embrace diversity in our national community.

COMMISSIONS & NEW MUSIC

Continuing the Library's tradition of supporting today's music, five Library commissions will receive their premieres this season. These include new works by John Adams (St. Lawrence String Quartet), Jefferson Friedman (Chiara Quartet and Simone Dinnerstein), Jennifer Higdon (Robert Spano, Roberto Díaz and the Curtis Chamber Orchestra), George Lewis (Ensemble Dal Niente) and Kaija Saariaho (Jennifer Koh, Anssi Karttunen and Benjamin Hochman). Other 20th/21st century music highlights for the season include Ensemble Dal Niente's performance of the monumental in vain by G.F. Haas; Katherine Chi and Aleksandar Madžar's rendition of the Stockhausen classic, Mantra; the Irving Fine Centennial concerts and symposia featuring the music of Fine, Bernstein and Copland; and Intelligence in The Human-Machine, a unique duet for cellist Katinka Kleijn and her own brainwaves, presented in association with BrightestYoungThings.

KEYBOARD MASTERS

Beyond our complement of great chamber musicians, three exceptional keyboard soloists will join us next season. Pierre-Laurent Aimard will offer a program fit for those with fugal tastes, featuring contrapuntal masterworks by Bach, Beethoven and Brahms. Richard Goode will perform Schumann's rarely heard Humoreske, alongside his second piano trio and Brahms' second piano quartet. Harpsichordist Jory Vinikour rounds out the season in olden style with suites by Handel and Bach.

THE GLORY OF THE HUMAN VOICE

Two of Great Britain's favorite chamber music partners, tenor Ian Bostridge and pianist Julius Drake, offer a new take on Schubert's song cycle Winterreise, paired with the U.S. launch of Bostridge's forthcoming book on the songs. The electrifying early music ensemble Vox Luminis offers an exclusive DC performance of Scarlatti's Stabat Mater, plus works by Monteverdi and Della Ciaia. Ensemble Caprice delves into rare Baroque music from Iberia and Latin America. The Choir of Clare College, Cambridge U.K. makes its Library of Congress debut as part of the Irving Fine Centennial, performing Fine's The Hour-Glass and Three Choruses from Alice in Wonderland (Set I), Bernstein's Chichester Psalms, and Britten's A Ceremony of Carols, under the direction of Graham Ross.

CHAMBER ALL-STARS

This season presents an impressive all-star field of artists, with many dates for hardcore music aficionados to mark on their calendars. The St. Lawrence String Quartet performs on the Library's unparalleled Stradivari instruments in a three-concert project that draws in two good friends as guest artists, pianist Pedja Muzijevic and violist Hsin-Yun Huang. The Chiara String Quartet also plays the Strads in works by Mozart, Fine and Friedman, partnering with Simone Dinnerstein. Other superb performers and ensembles include violist Kim Kashkashian with pianist Peter Nagy; Germany's Leipzig String Quartet; and the brilliant Dutch reed quintet Calefax. Several special evenings bring together distinguished artists for one-of-a-kind concerts: cellist Jan Vogler, violinist Mira Wang and pianist Antti Siirala perform Beethoven, Harbison and Tchaikovsky; violist Misha Amory joins the Claremont Trio; and a formidable force of musicians well-known to chamber audiences—pianist Wu Han, cellist David Finckel, violist Paul Neubauer and violinist Daniel Hope—offers piano quartets by Mozart, Brahms, and the very young Gustav Mahler.

COUNTERPOINTS

Our Counterpoints tent is expanding this season, with a head-turning range of events to sample: lectures, panels, interviews and conversations with performers, composers and scholars. Technofiles, a new 6-part mini-series, explores how technology affects the ways we create, perform, and experience music; speakers include composer Jonathan Berger; Sonicbids founder and BerkleeICE director Panos Panay, and others. Tony Award-winning playwright/songwriter Stew (Passing Strange) talks with The Studio Theatre's Adrien-Alice Hansel about his work. Our very popular #Declassified series returns, offering intimate encounters—for a limited audience—with artifacts and ideas: "mano a mano y mano a mano," (piano duet treasures from the Library's archives); "Music Lobbyists;" and "Fly Space: Inside the Minds of Theatrical Directors and Designers."
